Tucson, Ariz. (Feb. 2, 2016) – While the tour golf professionals enjoy their return to play Omni Tucson National Resort this spring, everyday golfers from around the country can enjoy the same experience at the iconic desert venue with vacation packages that feature championship-caliber golf year-round.

Both the Unlimited Golf Package and Stay & Play Golf Package are ideal for golfers to share in the history and tradition of Omni Tucson National Resort, which has hosted PGA Tour sanctioned events more than 30 times between 1965 and 2006 – and is gearing up for the return of the 2016 Tucson Conquistadores Classic, a Champions Tour event, March 18-20, 2016. Numerous players who won at Omni Tucson National during their PGA Tour careers are now competing on the Champions Tour, including Kirk Triplett, Jeff Sluman, David Frost, Tom Watson, and Craig Stadler.

The Unlimited Golf Package is ideal for golfers who want to play Omni Tucson National from sunup to sundown and includes deluxe accommodations, golf and golf cart. Available for the nights of March 18 and 19, included are deluxe accommodations, daily breakfast, and $100 resort credit. The VIP Package is $2,599, based on double occupancy.

Named one of the “75 Best Golf Resorts in North America” by Golf Digest, Omni Tucson National is part of the unique collection of Omni golf courses throughout the country. The resort boasts two golf courses – the Catalina Course, a renowned Robert von Hagge-Bruce Devlin parkland design built in 1963, and the Sonoran Course, which Tom Lehman designed in 2006.

The Catalina Course – the longtime home of the tour pros and site for the Tucson Conquistadores Classic – is known for its magnificent views and traditional parkland-style layout with gentle contours, tree-lined fairways and eight sparkling lakes. The Sonoran Course is a pure desert-style layout, with steep elevation changes that create uphill and downhill shot opportunities not typically found in Tucson. The Sonoran also offers spectacular vistas of natural beauty of the surrounding terrain.

Located in some of the country’s most beautiful destinations, Omni Hotels & Resorts golf courses are designed by award-winning golf architects, some of who are legendary champions of the game. Each golf resort is complete with luxurious accommodations, and superior service, on and off the course.
